Federal Aid Next Subject on Radio

Ruediger, Cooper to Fill
Next Two Programs
on WMAL

"Federal Aid to Education—Practical Difficulties in the Way," is the subject set for the next two Forum programs over WMAL at 7:30 Thursday evening.

Prof. William J. Cooper, formerly U. S. Commissioner of Education, will speak this week, followed by Dean William C. Ruediger, of the school of education.

The speech given last Thursday concerned the organizations of youth, and was presented by Dr. J. Orrin Ewers. He spoke of the various organizations as they exist today, and emphasized the purpose of each.

One class of which he spoke was that which develops the youth for certain adult organizations. He gave as another classification, those organizations which concern youth, yet are led by adults, and serve as a training ground for leaders.

His last group was that which is solely controlled by youth. He believed this to be the most important group of all, and the type which will be encouraged in the future.

Fellowships Open To Science Grads

Students receiving degrees in the field of science in June will be eligible for two fellowships in scientific research.

Seniors who will continue in electricity, physics, or physical chemistry research for their master's degrees are eligible to compete for the Charles A. Coffin fellowship offered by the General Electric Co.

Applications should be filed with the dean of the school by February 15. This fellowship is worth $5,000 annually.

The twenty-second election of the three Beit Fellows in scientific research will be held July 22. Applications for the trust fellowship are due by April 11.

Under the direction of the newly elected executive council of the Social Sorority-Fraternity University Scholarship Fund Committee, campus Greek letter organizations will endow a fund sufficient to provide each year the two outstanding students of Washington High Schools with special scholarships.

Charles Stofberg was named president of the Fund Committee and Katherine Kramer, secretary, by the permanent delegates of the 23 social organizations represented at the last meeting.

The executive board will function

Honored

Henry Gratian Doyle to whom this year's Cherry Tree will be dedicated. Doyle is dean of the Columbian college and professor of romance languages. He was graduated from Harvard in 1911, with distinction in romance languages.

Dean Doyle came to George Washington in 1916 as an instructor, and was promoted to assistant professor in 1918. He was made a full professor in 1921. Rapid promotion followed with his appointment as Dean of Men in 1927, and Dean of the Junior College in 1930. This year, he was made Dean of the Columbian College.

He is president of the Eastern Association of College Deans and Advisors to Men, national president of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and national president of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity.

Pre-Registration Period Will Last Until January 18

Regular Crowded Period
May Be Avoided by
Early Matriculation

Opening yesterday, pre-registration for the second semester will continue through Friday, January 18. Students enrolled in the University who expect to continue their work here next semester may register now and avoid the more crowded regular period.

Junior College advisers will be in their offices for consultation with respect to programs during this time. William C. Johnston, acting dean, states that the office of the Junior College will be glad to assist students in any way possible and to inform them of advisers' office hours.

Provision Made for Failures
Schedules made during the pre-registration period may be changed in case of failure in pre-requisite courses, the registrar's office announces.

Students entering the University from high schools or transferring from other colleges or universities will register on Wednesday and Thursday, January 30 and 31. Classes for the second semester will be resumed Friday, February 1.

The usual late registration fee will be charged if initial payment of tuition has not been made by January 31.

The printed form on page 3 should be filled in at once by all students of the University (except those in Medical school) and should be mailed or brought to the registrar's office. Necessary forms for registration and full instructions

1000 Made Merrier at Christmas By Students, Faculty Charity

More than 1,000 persons were fed, and approximately 400 children received toys on Christmas day, through the agency of The Hatchet-Student Council Christmas Food Drive, Sam Futrowsky, director of the Drive, stated last week.

"In other words," he said, "231 baskets of food were distributed to families averaging between four and five persons each, and toys were given to 103 families having an average of four children."

The toys were obtained from The Washington Post Christmas Toy Fund, Futrowsky explained, and the food was nearly all given by students, faculty, and alumni of the University, or purchased with their cash donations of more than $250.

The value of food received at Food Drive headquarters prior to 6:30 p. m., Friday, December 21 was just under $400, making the total of all contributions approximately $670, Futrowsky said.

Tau Epsilon Phi Generous

By far the heaviest contributors to the drive was Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity, giving foodstuffs valued at $37.74. Kappa Sigma contributed $25.20 worth.

Fifth precinct police, who were staging a drive of their own at the time, delivered 176 baskets and students 55.

A detailed report will be presented to the Student Council and The Hatchet not later than February 1, Futrowsky said.

Football Banquet Planned by Alumni For January 28th

Football Captain to Be Elected at Annual Dinner
January 19

Glenn Thistlewaite, athletic director and head football coach at the University of Richmond, and other prominent national sports figures have been invited to attend the annual football banquet as honor guests and speakers. The banquet will be held at the Lee House Monday, January 28.

The General Alumni Association and the athletic department are sponsoring the affair.

Election of the football captain for next season and presentation of the O. D. K. cup to the most valuable player will be the features of the program. Award of letters and numerals; presentation of Buff and Blue blankets to the three seniors, captain Ed Clark, Bill Parrish, and Henry Strayer; and announcement of the varsity and freshman football managers for next season will also be made.

May Announce Schedule
The football schedule may also be announced at the banquet, Max Farrington stated.

Thistlewaite has just completed his first season at Richmond, with fair success, and promises to put the Virginia school on the football map.

He made an outstanding reputation in the Big Ten before coming East, his teams at Northwestern, as well as Wisconsin, gaining considerable attention.

Dinner at Eight

The O. D. K. cup, awarded to Johnny Fenlon in 1932 and "Tuffy" Leomans last year, is given to the player voted by writers of the five Washington papers and The Hatchet sports editor as "the most valuable player to the team during the season."

Quentin Watson, of the alumni association, and Max Farrington are in charge of details for the program. Dinner will be at 8 p. m. Admission is $1.00.

Alumnus Radios Greetings From Little America

In a radiogram to the physics department, George Grimminger, former student and present meteorologist on the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, expressed "all good wishes for Christmas and the New Year."

Grimminger, after receiving his degree from the physics department, was appointed on the staff of the United States Weather Bureau in Washington. In view of his outstanding work in meteorology, he was picked by Commander Byrd as a member of his second Little America Expedition.

Band Presents Initial Concert

The University Band gave its first public concert of the year during the Christmas vacation, playing on the regular University period over station WMAL.

Future appearances to be made by the concert unit of the band include the Frosh mixer in February, and annual concert to be given in the early spring.

The "Pop Band," directed by William Corley, will appear at both the C. C. N. Y. and the Elton basketball games.

Buff Beats Hornet Quint, 50-20, With Aid of New Line-up

Noonan, Ruley, Berg Starters;
Kiesel Scores 15
Points

George Washington's Colonials returned to scenes of former basketball triumphs last night and defeated the Lynchburg Hornets, 50 to 20. Coach Roland Logan presented a revised edition of his basketball team that saw three new starters, Bill Noonan, Red Ruley and Clarence Berg.

Hal Kiesel, versatile center, returned to form and scored 15 points, 10 from the court and 5 from the foul line. His ability to get the tap aided the Colonials no little.

Milton Schonfeld, dwarf guard, was next in line for the Buff and Blue scorers. His superb floor play and accurate passing helped his teammates ring up several points. He himself accounted for seven.

Logan started Kiesel, Goldfaden, Ruley, Schonfeld, and Berg at the second half, and this combination looked the best of the lot. McClure and Turnkey were the outstanding players for the visitors. McClure played center and Turnkey forward.

The entire Colonial squad saw action in this one-sided fracas. The score was 22-13 at the half. Schonfeld continued his clownish tactics and Jimmy Howell, usual high point scorer, failed to count a basket until late in the second half. Then he suddenly came to life and rang the bell twice in succession from the court.

Group Appointed To Clear Frosh

Fagelson Selected to Head
Committee; Junior
Officers to Help

In an effort to clear the deficit created by Freshmen Frolic, the created by the 1933 Freshmen Frolic, the Student Council in conjunction with the Student Life Committee, has appointed a committee to clear this debt of two years standing. Bernard Fagelson, who successfully headed the committee that cleared the Junior Prom debt of the same year was appointed chairman by Ted Pierson, president of the Council.

Officers of this year's Junior class, which was the Freshman class when the ill-fated Frolic was given will cooperate with Fagelson's committee. They are Al Heckel, Marjorie Sehorn, Louise Rex, Sidney Kolker, Russell Payne, and Al Barnett.

The main committee is composed of four men and three women, each of whom will head a sub-committee in an effort to contact every organization on the campus. They are: David Apter, public relations counsel; Eleanor Boehs, who will contact sororities; Machin Gardner, who contacts fraternities; James Haley; and Hazel Haynes and Verna Volz, co-heads of the organization committee.

Paul Brogren, also a member of this year's Junior Class, has been appointed a special assistant to the chairman of the committee.

Lutheran Club Elects Delegates

Arrangements for sending delegates to the North Atlantic Region Conference of Lutheran Clubs will be made at a meeting tomorrow evening at 8 p. m. in Columbian House.

The conference is to be held in the religious building of the University of Pennsylvania in February. Myrtle Mohagen, vice-president of the G. W. Luther club is secretary of the region.

The Lutheran student conference held here last December will also be discussed with the intention of holding another next year.

Sigma Chi Fire Case Enters District Court Of Appeals

Red Sox Sign
Colonial Trainer

ROLAND LOGAN

Roland Logan, assistant football and basketball coach, and trainer, has been signed by the Boston Red Sox as trainer for next season, it was announced in Boston Friday. Logan confirmed the announcement yesterday, adding that he was to report for duty March 1 at Sarasota, Fla., the Red Sox training camp.

He has been released from his contract here from March 1 for the rest of the academic year and his future with the University will be determined when Pixlee returns from the West Coast next week.

Logan stated that he wired Pixlee asking for his release at the end of the basketball season and said that he would like to return next September in time to go to training camp.

Logan was signed by Manager Joe Cronin, former manager and shortstop of the Nationals, who was sold to the Red Sox in November by President Clark Griffith for a sum reported to be $250,000, in baseball's most sensational deal. Logan succeeds "Doc" Woods.

Signed by Pixlee in September, 1933, Roland reported to Camp Lettis, Md., September 6 as assistant line coach and trainer. Last winter he became freshman basketball coach and tutored the frosh to the local and South Atlantic A. A. U. unlimited titles. His charges won 23 of 25 games.

Late this fall Logan was made assistant varsity basketball coach, in addition to again handling the club. Since Pixlee left December 15, the young Kansan has been in complete charge of both teams.

Graduated from Kansas University in 1930, Logan was signed at once as assistant football and track coach, and trainer. He coached there for three years until coming here.

Honorary Group Elects New Men

Gate and Key, honorary interfraternity organization, will meet tomorrow night at 8:15 in the Delta Tau Delta house. New men will be voted on, and those elected will be tapped at the Interfraternity Prom.

A committee will be selected to recommend the recipient of the annual Gate and Key award to the most valuable basketball player. This award will probably be presented at the Interfraternity Prom, Charles Chestnut, president, stated.

Public Speaking Classes Hold Banquets Last Night, Friday

Members of Professor Yeager's public speaking class had an opportunity to put into practice the knowledge they have acquired during the past semester when they gave two banquets, one last night and the other last Friday evening.

The dinners were complete in every detail, including a full quota of toastmasters and after-dinner speakers.

Sixteen speakers regaled their audience on each occasion, the main topic on the first evening being "Public Speaking," and that of last night being "New Dealers." Professor Yeager was master of ceremonies. The toastmasters on the first evening were John M. Smith, Frank Hand, and Austin Cunningham. Last night's toastmasters were Lorraine Rackus, F. E. Fletcher, and Melvin Plunkett.

Members of the committee planning the dinners were Hazel Wyatt, W. J. Davis, and Daniel Anderson.

Attorney General Files
Brief Favoring Defendants Smith, Parlon

By John T. Madigan

The case of Edward J. Parlon and Albert Smith, former George Washington students, found guilty of setting fire to the Sigma Chi fraternity house in the summer of 1933, was appealed yesterday in District Supreme Court in proceedings which aroused keen interest of both George Washington persons and the legal profession at large.

A brief filed on behalf of the defendants by Attorney General Cummings, in which he reviews the case, explains a private investigation carried on by Department of Justice agents, and includes a "confession of error" by the Government, has been declared to be of far-reaching significance in criminal case jurisprudence. For that reason attorneys will await the decision with great interest.

Garnett Disagrees
District Attorney Leslie C. Garnett has submitted a brief in which he holds that the lower court verdict was correct.

The court received the briefs of appeal yesterday and will render a decision at its convenience. Either the verdict of the lower court will be upheld and Smith and Parlon will be sent to prison or the case will be sent back to the lower court for a new trial. Then the district attorney may either prosecute again or ask the court to nolle prosequere the case.

Harley J. Hallett, Jr., John Thaxter, and Ray Heimbarger, members of the fraternity, were injured in the fire which broke out in the early morning, endangered the lives of 15 men sleeping in the house, and did $10,000 damage. The fire was started with gasoline, according to police, and swept rapidly through the house, forcing the men to jump from windows and

Davis to Address International Club

Delegate of League of Nations Ass'n to Discuss
Saar Situation

Malcolm W. Davis, director of the Geneva Research Center and European representative of the League of Nations Association, will speak on the Saar situation at the meeting of the International Relations Club tonight at 8 o'clock in Corcoran 17.

Since 1931 Mr. Davis has been in charge of the Geneva Research Center, and during the Disarmament Conference of 1932 he was reporter for the American Inter-Organization Council on Disarmament in Geneva. Since that time he has been chairman of the International Consultative Group in Geneva, which coordinates the work of numerous American and international organizations.

Mr. Davis is making his first visit to the United States since 1931 for the purpose of addressing a limited number of groups on the present European situation, and also of observing conditions in this country so that he will be able to interpret the United States' foreign policy more accurately to the various groups with which he comes in contact in Geneva.

Hour Glass Will Meet Wednesday Evening at 7

Former Editor Gives Missing Hatchets

Dr. Robert Hooper McNeil, former editor of The University Hatchet and at present professor of Journalism, recently supplied the University Library with missing copies of the 1924 volume of The Hatchet.

Dr. McNeil was editor of The Hatchet from September, 1923, to April, 1924, when he was succeeded by Fred Youngman. During his year as editor his pencil edited some of the most important stories in the history of the University.

He saw, in November, 1923, the impressive inauguration of Dr. William Mather Lewis as president of the University, as well as the presentation of the Merryman portrait of Dean Wilbur. Dr. McNeil watched 1,232 oratorical-mad students vote a victory for George Washington's debate team in a match with Oxford University.

During 1924 he witnessed verbal fireworks in connection with student council elections that resulted in the expulsion of a student, as well as high praise of a student building endowment drive which raised $63,662. This drive, coupled with a nation-wide solicitation for a million dollar fund, resulted in the erection of Corcoran Hall.

In an editorial captioned "The Swan Song," Dr. McNeil ended his editorship with a plea for more frequent publication of The Hatchet.

Colonials Engage C.C.N.Y. Tomorrow At McKinley Gym

Beavers Have Lost Three Games This Season;
Elon Here Friday

By John Busick

Checked in its last two starts before returning to the victory column last night, the varsity five meets one of the East's leaders tomorrow night in the McKinley Tech gym at 8 p. m. when the fast City College of New York team invades the Capital for its first visit to meet G. W.

Friday night the Colonials return to their own floor for a game with Elon, usually a weak quint.

Coached by Nat Holman, for many years one of the country's leading professional players, the Lavender-clad outfit has made an unusually fine record. On December 31 they were defeated on their own court for the first time since 1930. Westminster downing the Beavers, 28-24.

However, C. C. N. Y. has lost also to Geneva and Duquesne, in addition to Westminster, and Holman has the unpleasant feeling of seeing his present team, with seven hard games remaining to be played, charged with as many defeats as his teams have suffered in the last three years.

After dropping three in a row, the St. Nick club came back Saturday to beat its dearest rival, St. John's of Brooklyn, 28-22, in Madison Square Garden and dispel any fears that it was in a sustained slump. The Johnnies cherish nothing so much as a victory over City College and the game was one for blood.

Lack Scoring Punch
Holman has lost his two great stars, Moe Spahn and Moe Goldman, and his club hasn't shown the powerful scoring drive that these men gave the Beavers in the past two campaigns.

If Coach Roland Logan can shake his charges out of the lethargy that marked their play Saturday, they may get revenge for two defeats G. W. has met at the hands of City College in New York last season and the season before.

In the first meeting, which was in the New York charity tourney, the Colonials held their own and led at the half by a single point. C. C. N. Y. drew out in front when play was renewed, however, and finally won, 37-26, with a basket-sniping spurge in the last two minutes.

University Enters Yearbook Quarrel

Will Offer Plan of Aid for Both Fraternities and
Cherry Tree

Action by the Interfraternity Council on a proposal to withdraw support from the Cherry Tree has been postponed until after January 15, as a result of a special meeting of the Council December 20.

Ludwig Caminita, Jr., coordinator of student activities, was present at the invitation of Morse Allen, president of the Council, and outlined the position of the University administration.

Administration Concerns
Caminita assured the Council that the administration was anxious to bring about a settlement. He asked that they delay action until he should have an opportunity to consult with President Marvin, and attempt to draw up a plan which would satisfy the demands of the fraternities without jeopardizing the interests of the annual.

The chief objection of chapters to the status quo is the alleged failure of the Cherry Tree staff to make a reasonable effort to promote sales, it was brought out in discussion.

JUST BETWEEN US News Service Planned; Food Drive Over Top

By VERA VOLZ

THE absence here of a school of journalism does not bar the steady progress of G. W. in the field of school publications. The newly-named George Washington Scholastic Press Association, organized two years ago, has brought high school editors from three States together and the critical service of this year promises further extension.

A regular news and feature bulletin service to be sent from G. W. to the thirty-five member periodicals is the latest development.

According to Howard Ennes, director, the first sheets carry a date line of early February and will contain special articles by Professors Kayser, West, and Seeger, each treating some phase of his field from an angle appealing to students of high school age.

VOLZ

The last thing that the University did as a whole in 1934 has left a pleasant glow to carry into the new year with everybody concerned. We were able to do twice as much in Christmas community service as The Hatchet-Student Council Food Drive had estimated.

When the last roast of beef and package of raisins and toy train and remade doll had been dispatched via the kindly facilities of the Third Precinct of the police department, there was not one member of the drive staff who had sufficient strength left to record on the grid card which undoubtedly the athletic department is laboring to fill now. These vacancies will be filled but will they be teams that were originally sought as most desirable for us to play? Or simply those carded to fill in after it was found that the schools we desired had closed their schedules for next season.

Five of these schools included G. W. in their lists which indicates that half of our schedule, at least, is closed. Several games may be definitely settled but unannounced by Coach Pixlee or the schools in question. This leaves vacancies in the grid card which undoubtedly the athletic department is laboring to fill now. These vacancies will be filled but will they be teams that were originally sought as most desirable for us to play? Or simply those carded to fill in after it was found that the schools we desired had closed their schedules for next season.

Most of the major teams have completed at least half of their schedule for 1936, by contract or verbal agreement. Between now and next fall they will add several games and by October 1 their lists will be nearly complete, with perhaps one open date, or two at the most.

If we wish to compete with these teams, we should open negotiations with them early enough to make arrangements as to dates, etc. The way should be cleared by the administration, if that's what holds up the athletic department, for Pixlee to begin his schedule-making a year earlier, on an even basis with other teams. In this way only can the athletic department secure the games it desires.

Did You Know That ---

LOTS worth twenty-five thousand dollars were appropriated to Columbian College in 1892 by an act of Congress during the first administration of President Jackson. This was the only money that the institution has ever received from the Government.

Members of the student body of Columbian College participated on both the Confederate and Union sides during the Civil War. Classes were practically suspended and the college buildings were used by the Government for hospital purposes during the war period.

The incoming mail at The George Washington University averages 700 pieces per day, and the outgoing approximates 800 pieces per day. These figures are greatly enlarged at the beginning of semesters and when tuition payments fall due.

Lowell Joseph Ragatz, professor of History, was editor of the Daily Cardinal, student newspaper of the University of Wisconsin in 1919. The following year he was made governor of the board of control of the publication.

Congress Seats Four University Law Graduates

Senator Clark Returns; Three Representatives Re-elected

Four alumni of George Washington Law School took their seats in the 74th Congress which convened Thursday. Three of seven representatives who sat in the 73rd Congress were re-elected in the November elections.

Senator Clark, LL.B., '14, son of the famous speaker of the House of Representatives, the late Champ Clark, was elected to the United States Senate in 1932 for the term commencing March 4, 1933, but was subsequently appointed to the Senate in February, 1933 by Governor Guy Park to fill the unexpired term caused by the resignation of Senator Harry B. Hawes. He was not up for re-election, and was among the four alumni to take their seats.

Clark Prominent in Legion
Senator Clark, a Democrat, was parliamentarian of the House of Representatives in 1913. At the outbreak of the World War he enlisted and was later elected lieutenant-colonel of his regiment. Since the War the Senator has practiced law in St. Louis. He is one of the 17 charter members of the American Legion, and has served as national commander of the Legion.

Stephen W. Gambrell, LL.B., '05 and LL.M., '06, Democrat, has served as congressman from the Fifth district of Maryland since the 67th Congress. Mr. Gambrell has practiced law in Baltimore since 1908, and formerly served three terms in the Maryland Legislature.

Greenwood From Indiana
Arthur H. Greenwood, LL.M., '25, Democrat, represents the Seventh district of Indiana. Congressman Greenwood has practiced law in Washington, Ind., since 1905, and acted as state's attorney for the forty-ninth judicial circuit of Indiana before his election to the 68th Congress. He has sat in every Congress since then.

Donald H. McLean, LL.B., '06, was re-elected to the House on the Republican ticket from the Sixth district of New Jersey. Representative McLean began his political career when he served as private secretary to United States Senator John Kean, of New Jersey. After graduating from George Washington, Mr. McLean served as assistant county prosecutor, county committee chairman, and township attorney of Hillsdale, his home town. Congressman McLean was elected to the House in November, 1932.

George Washington law alumni in the House who served in the last Congress and failed to return to the new Congress are: Edward E. Dennison, LL.B., '09, Republican, Twenty-fifth district of Illinois; Robert Henderson, LL.B., '25, Republican, Eighth district of California; A. T. Smith, LL.B., '05, Republican, Second district of Iowa.

Panhel Considers Prom Proposals

Committee Will Report on Possible Constitutional Revision

The Panhellenic Association will meet today at noon in Corcoran 12, Mary Louise Yauch, president, announced Sunday. The Junior Panhel will meet in an adjoining room at the same time. The committee will receive report of its committee in regard to a possible constitutional revision, and will discuss the Panhellenic Prom.

Among other propositions, it will consider the proposal of the Interfraternity Council that the two groups cooperate on their proms. It has been suggested that they engage the same orchestra, to play for them on consecutive week-ends.

The Junior Panhel will continue its discussion of rush rules, and possible improvement upon those of last fall.

Student Regimentation Viewed With Alarm by Hatchet Writer

By Austin Cunningham
We, the students of the George Washington University, are being regimented, my friends!

Yes, indeed, and it is high time that someone began to view the situation with alarm. If present trends continue, the time is not far distant when each of us will be a very small cog in the maw of a gigantic, soulless, and rapacious machine.

In the Beginning
To begin way back at the beginning, it was early in the fall of 1934 that all students were required to have their pictures placed in student activity books in order to gain admission to our star-studded football games. What a step that was! It was then that the ultra-conservatives began to see the handwriting on the wall, the end of the good old days of crooked individualism.

Then, a short time later, it was required that students, when voting in the freshman elections, show these same pictures. That was very significant, limiting, it did, freshman elections to freshmen

Greek Groups Convene Here During Recess

Phi Alpha Wins Founders' Cup; Alumnus Named National Officer

The G. W. chapters of Phi Alpha and Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternities were hosts to the delegates of their national conventions which were held in Washington during the holidays.

The local Phi Alpha chapter was honored by receiving the Founders' Cup for the best chapter from September, 1933, to June, 1934. The chapter will receive permanent possession of the cup, having been awarded it three times.

The Phi Alpha chapter was honored also by having one of its alumni, Oscar Dodek, elected as the national vice president of the fraternity.

The S. A. E. convention opened December 27 and lasted through the 29th. Delegates representing 108 chapters of the fraternity attended the convention, which included tours of the city, a banquet, a luncheon, the grand ball, and a party at the home of Merle Thorpe.

The Phi Alpha convention began the closing day of the S. A. E. convention. It opened with a dance at Wardman Park Hotel. Other features of the program included a formal dinner dance at the Mayflower, a stag party for the men and a luncheon for the girls, a New Year's eve dance, and a tea dance.

Schneider Will Lead Pledge Prom Grand March At Kennedy Warren

Benson's Band, Accompanied by Blues Singer Is Feature

Combining the first big social event of the new year with the last one before exams, the annual interfraternity pledge prom at the Kennedy-Warren Saturday night promises to be a success.

Social Chairman Bob Schneider, followed by Maurice Draper, president of the pledge council, and the social committee, will lead the grand march at midnight.

Benson Popular The band, an eleven-piece Jack Benson unit, will be accompanied by a local blues singer. Winner of the Fiesta Band contest held here last spring, Benson's orchestra has come to be very popular at G. W. functions.

The Kennedy-Warren will provide free parking space for those attending the dance. Chairman Schneider has put a ban on corsages and states that the Student Council has arranged a closed night for the prom.

Price $1.65 Couple The prom is open to friends, actives, and pledges of the members of campus fraternities. Tickets may be obtained from the social committee or from any fraternity house at $1.65 a couple and $1.35 stag.

Assisting Bob Schneider as chairman of the prom committee are Paul Brogen, general coordinator; Baxter Davis, publicity; George Dickey, chairman of posters and tickets; Maurice Draper, orchestration of fraternity songs; Garth Edwards, chairman of the grand march and penmanship; and Machin Gardner, assistant chairman of tickets and publicity.

Kangas Arranging Songs Chaperones for the prom are Acting Dean and Mrs. Johnstone and Dr. Alan Delbert.

Curled Coiffures Should Express Your Personality

By Mary Kunna Hairlines for the winter are definitely up in campus circles. Personalities should be expressed in coiffures and today the mode of expression is curls.

Tresses swirl in soft waves to the crown of the head and end in a glorious cluster of ringlets. Then again the motion may be downward and seek rest in a large bunch at the nape of the neck. The latter is favored for daytime wear in classes while the more extreme are reserved for the magic hours of fraternity dances.

The tendency on other coiffures is to pull the hair straight off the face in a severe and elegant fashion and heap the curls stop the head. Starting with the back of the head, the hair swirls gracefully across and breaks into fringes over the face. An innovation in parts is the one which cuts clear from the forehead to the nape of the neck.

Mysterious Prowlers to Issue Free Tickets to Lucky Persons

Twelve students who utter 13 words to the right persons this week will receive free tickets to the Interfraternity Pledge Prom Saturday. Unidentified members of the student body will prowl the campus four times each day waiting for someone to utter the magic 13 words, "Are you going to the Interfraternity Pledge Prom at the Kennedy-Warren Saturday night?" to him (or her).

The mysterious prowlers will be abroad from 8:30 to 12:30 each morning, and from 4:30 until 6:15 on the evenings of Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Social Year Ends In Rush of Parties Among Campus Greeks

The Greek world of G. W. filled the holiday season with gay parties and dances in a swirl of social events that ended 1934 with a rush. The merriment began the very evening that classes ended. Phi Mu entertained at a formal dance given at the Army and Navy Club.

Woman's Country Club, and Chi Omega held their dance at the Roosevelt.

The next evening Theta Delta Chi held a dance at the house, and the members of Gamma Eta Zeta and Pi Delta Epsilon held a joint affair at the Mayflower lounge. On the 22nd, the pledges of Phi Sigma Kappa gave a dance at the Phi Sig house. Sigma Nu also entertained that evening.

Pi Beta Phi held their annual formal Christmas Eve at the War College. Thursday evening, the 27th, Kappa Kappa Gamma held a Christmas party at the home of Marcia Stauffer. The same evening Sigma Kappa danced at Beaver Dam Country Club. The following night A. D. Pi danced to the music of the Alaskans at Meridian Mansions.

New Year's Eve saw S. P. E., Sigma Nu, the alumni of Acacia, the Delts and Phi Sigma Kappa make merry. The S. P. E.'s held a script dance at their new house and the Phi Sig gave a formal dance with the Ruffin Brothers, or the "Washington Negroes," as novelty entertainment.

Saturday night Acacia held a dance at the house, thus starting the fraternity and sorority world into a new season of gaiety and fun.

Personal Leemans Turns Speaker McLennan Scores Hit Heckel "Hangs" Pin

"Tuffy" Leemans has turned after-dinner speaker on us! After finishing his speech at a church father-son banquet, he asked if anyone had any questions. One smart youngster asked: "Do you drink Coco-Malt?" while another floored him with: "Do you come from the country? You talk like it."

We elevate Nancy McLennan to that niche formerly solely occupied by Gertrude Castle. After taking a phone call at the Hatchet office, Nancy inquired: "Is there a James Haley here?" On being asked if she knew he was the editor, she retorted: "I thought Madigan was!"

Al Heckel, the boy from Illinois, no longer wears his fraternity pin. The proud possessor is Fay Walker, Chi O from Utah. Kenn Romney has been forced to resign as publicity director of Troubadours because his time is being taken up in handling the Washington Times' radio news flashes every morning from 9 to 9:15 over station WMAL. Constatulation, Stat!

One of the new Arkansas pledges seemed very surprised when the S. A. E. chapter refused to accept his offer of paying his initiation fee in livestock. Did you hear about the Phi Chi Medical fraternity brother who diagnosed a case of gripe as scarlet fever and had everybody quarantined? "Irma Lee Johnson, will you stop kissing me," was the phrase which caused so much commotion last week in the library. Moral: Be careful when passing between the library and Building L.

Sigma Chi must be economizing or something. At least some rival fraternities thought so when they say the one cent stamp on their Christmas card. Saving up for a rainy day. Having Doc Wilson park the car on the front lawn must be inconvenient for Ed Wilson. Suppose Ed should come in with the milk man some morning when papa is departing on some professional calls. I wonder if Marie McCammon makes enough money to pay her sorority dues last week when she was shooting craps at the S. P. E. house? Now that there's going to be a women's dorm, what an ideal place that will be for mass dating! There's almost always one of the 200 residents who is likely to be unoccupied when one calls up Saturday at 9 p. m. for a date. Amanda Chittum caught the bride's bouquet at a wedding down in Carolina during the holidays. Watch your step, boys!

Private Parties Entertain Many

Numerous Parties, Teas, and Dances Featured During Holidays

While the sororities and fraternities entertained at formal dances their memberships enjoyed the many private parties tendered them by certain of their fellows during the holidays.

Mac Gardner gave a series of poker parties during the school recess period. December 22 saw Grace Boland entertaining at her home, and the following afternoon Marjorie and Jane Stein held a cocktail party. Thursday evening, the 27th, the Newman Club held a Christmas party at the home of Ralph Northrop. The party was a farewell entertainment for Leonard Ebel, the treasurer, who has returned to his home in Indiana.

Betty Bacon and Katherine Ahlert were hosts at a tea at the Ahlert home in Virginia the 28th. The next night Kitty Campbell entertained at a cocktail party followed by dancing and a midnight buffet supper.

Janie McSwain entertained Phi Mu at her home on the 30th with a luncheon. On New Year's Eve Kate Hopwood gave a dinner, following which the party went to the Army Medical Center Dance. On New Year's Day both Dee Gee Sedgewick and Grace Boland held "at home's."

Legal Fraternity Honors Initiates

Phi Delta Phi, international professional legal fraternity, initiated 18 men Sunday afternoon in Stockton Hall.

The initiates are: Homer Barlow, David E. Betts, Robert A. Cox, Lawrence D. Dibble, Albert L. Ely, Jr., Bernard A. Foster, Jr., George Gibson, Reuben Haslam, Richard L. Johnston, Paul Mahoney, Whitfield H. Marshall, Harry C. Page, William Bradford Ross, Will S. Siferd, William B. Snow, Jr., William T. Thurman, Chester C. Ward, and Robert B. Whitledge.

Following the initiation a dinner was given in honor of the new members. Paul Shorb, local practicing attorney, and Richard C. Palmer, province president of the fraternity, were the principal speakers. Chief Justice Wheat of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia attended the dinner.

Last year the Buff and Blue was sadly outclassed by the Holman's boys. The latter triumphed easily, 51-25.

Has Three Seniors Three seniors and two juniors comprise the canny Nat's opening line-up. Captain Sam Winograd and Marcus Pincus, veteran forwards, George Goldsmith and Bernie Schiffer, guards, and Sol Kopitko, center, will start against the Colonials. Kopitko and Schiffer are the juniors.

Logan may shift his line-up considerably during the game but is not expected to make any changes in the starting lineup. His team should be back in form after two games in which to find itself again following the long Christmas lay-off. Tuffy Leemans, who has rejoined the squad, undoubtedly will see some action.

Should G. W. win, it will be its first victory in the Tech gym.

Phillips Will Address Electrical Engineers E. J. Phillips of the Pennsylvania Railroad will speak before the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at 8 p. m. tomorrow in Corcoran 10. His subject will be "Railroad Signaling and Train Control."

The fabrication, operation, and control of electric locomotives will be shown in moving pictures following the speech. At the conclusion of the program Mr. Phillips will answer questions relating to his topic.

Council Considers High School Plan

Gardner Describes Senior Week; Edwards Discusses Co-op Sales

Tentative plans by which high school students interested in attending George Washington next year would be week-end guests of the University and the Interfraternity Council were placed before the Student Council last Thursday by Machin Gardner, recently named director of the High School Senior Week.

Plans Accepted Plans for the movement, proposed by the Student Council, have been accepted by the Interfraternity Council and the University, according to Gardner.

"We intend to show our guests a good time in the way of radio dances, a special Student Council dance, and possibly, a Cue and Curtain play," the director told the Council. In order to better acquaint them with the University and extra-curricula activities," Gardner added, "We hope to get the various schools and extra-curricula organizations to put on special exhibits which will give the visitors a comprehensive and true picture of student life at George Washington."

Co-op Sale Reported Regular routine business occupied the remainder of the Student Council's time. Councilman James Edwards, chairman of the Co-op sales committee, lauded Council members when he announced that the councilors alone sold 91 books.

Ruth Critchfield, athletic representative, was named by Theodore Pierson, Council president, to investigate the costs for procuring either keys or shields for the Councilmen.

Inter-American Center Entertains Historians During the recent convention of the American Historical Association, the Hispanic-American history group of the Association were guests of the University Center of Inter-American Studies at a luncheon given at the Hamilton Hotel on December 27.

Prof. P. A. Martin of Stanford University presided at the meeting. Speeches were given by Arthur Deering Call, editor of World Affairs and secretary of the American Peace Society; Francis Scholes, who is engaged in research for the Carnegie Institution; and Prof. A. Curtis Wilgus, director of the University Center of Inter-American Studies.

Pre-Registration Ends January 18 (Continued from Page 1) will be issued upon receipt of the form.

Many courses in all departments will start in the second semester, and many of the full-year courses may be entered at mid-term with the consent of the instructor.

Final examinations will be given from Saturday, January 19, to Saturday, January 26, and mid-semester recess will run from January 26 to February 1.

By JOHN BUSICK
MR. JAMES E. PIXLEE
Los Angeles, Calif.
Dear Uncle Jimmy:

It's time for you to come home now. Me and Max have been trying to run things but we've hit some snags that need to be straightened out. We're running around in circles with Roland, Jack, and Kitty in tow and the fifteenth seems a month off instead of only a week.

The football schedule is nearing completion but we need several more games to close it up. Thistlewaite was unable to settle on the date we wanted so Richmond is out until '36. I think we might work out a nice inter-city rivalry there so hope it will be settled. Glenn will be here on the 19th for the banquet. I think he'll have a powerhouse there by year after next.

I'm expecting you to bring back lots of news on the Rose Bowl fray and 'Bama's possibilities for next fall. Also a detailed account of those pass plays. I understand that Mickey Riley, who tossed one of the 50-yard aeriels to Hutson, is slated for big things next year by Thomas and is likely to give our pass defense all manner of headaches on October 5.

It's too bad that Howell and Hutson (oh yeah) won't be with them. Most people have forgotten that Dixie was here in '32 and did some nifty running with the ball late in the second half. I've been quite amused at Grant Rice's efforts to atone for not putting Howell on his All-American which came out just before Christmas. His first three yards did everything but make Dixie President.

You probably read with much chagrin about Drake's success Saturday. After losing five out of six games before coming here, they made our boys look decidedly bad. I think the long Christmas lay-off was responsible. They had no spark, or sustained power. In general it was the sloppiest, most listless exhibition of a G. W. has, kethal team that I can remember. I think that Logan will have them in tip-top shape again by the City College game tomorrow. Last night's fray ironed out most of the kinks and the boys are really anxious to upset Holman's crew. He intends to use Noonan, whose persistent presence on the bench has had me worried for a month.

KNOW you were glad to hear about Dick Harlow's appointment at Harvard. He's a grand guy and a swell coach. Len and Max came back from the coaches' confab with Len Little lined up for the job but I feel that the esteemed doctor wanted the job more than they wanted him. At least that's my hunch.

On the way back stop in Chicago and see Len. The newsmen have him signed by any of a half-dozen schools even if he can arrange leave of absence next fall. We need him here but I don't need to tell you, of all people, of his value. Len is one of the few men I know who has unusual ability in two fields.

Well, it's late and I'm sleepy so goodbye now. Take them mountain curves easy.
Your favorite nephew,
Johnny "Rusticost" Busick.

Pick-Off Plays Prove Colonials' Downfall in Indiana, Drake Games

By Harry Ceppos
After winning four consecutive games, the Colonial basketballers dropped tilts to Indiana and Drake.

Both of these losses could be attributed to the failure of the "Loganberries" to trade men on pick-off plays. In the first five minutes of the Hoosier contest, the Indians rang up three baskets directly resulting from pick-off plays.

Against Drake, the Buff and Blue looked pitiful when the dribbler would get free under the basket while two Colonials would be guarding one man.

Riflers Placed in Ranking Group by Nat. Rifle Assn.

Teams Grouped According to Strength Rather Than Location

With the resumption of practice after the holidays, Coach F. T. Parsons, Jr., has announced an important change in the grouping of the league rifle teams.

The National Rifle Association has recently regrouped all the collegiate rifle teams according to strength instead of geographically as they were formerly grouped.

It has placed the target snipers of George Washington in a league consisting of the U. S. Naval Academy, the U. S. Military Academy, the Coast Guard Academy, Virginia Military Institute, Maryland, and two other teams later to be selected. This league will be considered the top-ranking one in the country.

The period schedule will remain the same except for those matches to be fired with the new member teams of the re-grouped league. Definite dates will be announced next week.

The varsity and freshman teams have been selected, and the names of the men who will make up the first team rosters of those two squads will be announced next week by Coach Parsons.

Frosh Basketers Meet Washington Law Five Tonight

Law Institution Sponsors Team for First Time; Rivalry Is Keen

The freshman quintet will swing into action tonight against the team of the Washington College of Law which is putting a basketball team into the field this year for the first time. However, the Lawyers have shown strength, and they will provide plenty of opposition for the yearlings.

Three games will be played this week in addition to the game with the Lawyers. The Y. M. C. A. will be met on their home court Wednesday evening, Roosevelt High will show their basketball wares Thursday evening, and on the following Monday, Tech High will play in the Tech gym in a return game.

In four games this season the first-year men have been victorious in three games and lost a heart-breaker to Tech High by a score of 29-26.

As a rule the frosh five has played a two-game series with each Washington high school. However, Eastern and Central High this year adopted a policy of not playing any college freshmen teams. Thus, those schools were dropped from the club's schedule.

On the remainder of the schedule are games with the Y. M. C. A., Raymond Riordan School, Friends, Alexandria, and Western High. The Marines will be met at Quantico as well as here in the return game.

The schedule:
Jan. 8—Washington College of Law
Jan. 9—Y. M. C. A. (away)
Jan. 10—Roosevelt
Jan. 14—Tech (away)
Jan. 16—Y. M. C. A.
Jan. 26—Raymond Riordan School
Jan. 30—Marines (away)
Feb. 5—Friends
Feb. 6—Alexandria
Feb. 13—Marines
Feb. 19—Western.

Departure of Walsh to Chicago Strikes Blow At Grid Hopes for '35

LEN WALSH

Cunningham Interviewed By Logan in Broadcast

Glenn Cunningham, holder of the world mile record, who has been training in the George Washington gym this week, was interviewed last night on his prospects against his two foremost competitors, Bill Bonthron and Gene Venzke, by Roland Logan, Colonial trainer. Cunningham, incidentally, is Logan's guest while he is in the city.

The broadcast was at the invitation of Bill Coyle, WMAL sports commentator, who is heard every night from that station at 6:30.

A serious loss threatens future Colonial eleven with the termination of Len Walsh's connection with the University. Noted as a builder of stalwart forward walls, the chances that he may not be able to continue his coaching next fall brings dismay to the hearts of local grid fans.

Walsh has been appointed to a position as attorney with the Internal Revenue in Chicago and should he not be able to take time to continue his coaching here, a serious vacancy would occur in the coaching staff. There seems to be no further talk of a nationally known coaching figure coming here, and the administration faces the problem of securing a new line coach or moving up one of the other assistants.

Len came to George Washington in the fall of 1929 and has proved to be a most valuable member of the staff. He played football at Minnesota in 1925, 1926, 1927, and was named as guard on several All-American teams.

Zahn, '34, Aids In Defeat Of Heurich Basketers

One of the big thorns in the upset of Heurich Brewers, here Sunday by the Gettysburg Wings, semi-pro basketballers par excellence, was "Otis" Zahn, '34, former basketball captain at George Washington. Zahn, was also captain of the baseball team here.
